Buckle up your swash and join us for an evening of dining, a little dancing, and a lot of exciting adventure, as the San Gabriel Valley Branch gives you a ringside seat for action and romance in its production of "Pirates' Cove."

It's another dismal day in Scotland, and at Andy Stewart's Pub in a port town near Edinburgh, it's business as usual. The owner's fetching daughter Mairi, tending bar for her father, is bored. She's bored with life and she's unimpressed with the advances of John Paul Jones, an up-and-coming sea captain who wants to marry her.

Jones cuts a handsome enough figure, but like most men, is clueless when it comes to what a woman really wants. Suddenly all that changes, and the dreary pub comes to life when the swashbuckling pirate, William Lewis, barges in and dazzles Mairi with stories of high adventure. Swords clash and passions turn to violence as the blackguard abducts Mairi.

Months later, at Lewis' hideaway Pirates' Cove, Jones stages a daring rescue attack, and amidst flashing swords, struggle and screams, Mairi is forced to choose between Jones and Lewis ... Who will it be?

Join in the melodrama on September 30, and help Mairi choose!

Perhaps the most surprising twist of all will be the unexpected acting talent you will see displayed by your fellow dancers who are members of the cast.

You will be part of the action as well as dining and dancing, so please dress appropriately to the occasion and era. We encourage you to invite family, friends, and neighbors to attend. We'll have a little something for everyone, including some ceilidh dancing appropriate for nondancers.

This unique event is a fundraiser for the San Gabriel Valley Branch. The proceeds will help us defray the escalating costs of running the branch: insurance, newsletter publication, our stellar events, as well as membership in the RSCDS. We are endeavoring not to raise dues to cover these increased expenses, and we are trying to keep our event ticket prices reasonable. You can help us, and have a great time doing it! If you are not able to attend, your donation would be most welcome.
